

Memo from Mr. Mansfield.

Term 1 now in full swing

The school has got off to a great start for the year, despite the obvious disruptions. I really admire the way students have adjusted to the changes that have rolled out over the last few weeks. I would also like to thank parents again for their patience in assisting us with the latest covid restrictions.

Student Free Day Friday 4 March

We will be having a School Development Day on Friday 4 Mar which coincides with the Labour Day Public Holiday on Monday 7 March. We hope you enjoy your extra long weekend. Download a printable blank Term 1 Planner here.

Year Group Play Areas

As part of our COVID plan we are looking into ways to divide the play space into year groups. This is a complex task as it requires students to play in one area of the school during a break. Access to a child classroom, the toilets, and canteen will continue as per usual. We plan to create a rotation of play areas to ensure a variety of experiences for the students. The current proposal is that numbered flags will remind students of their play space for that particular break time. We will be experimenting with this concept over the next week. A school dojo will be sent out if implemented long term.

Virtual Assembly Week 4

Assemblies will be online now for some time so we have worked out a roster of classes to run the assembly. To ensure we don't have a variety of year groups in the hive, merit certificates will be in year groups only. Assembly items will be pre recorded, although we are experimenting with live broadcast from the classrooms. See the Calendar for more info.

Teacher Information Videos

This week you may have seen an introductory video on your Class Dojo from your child's teacher outlining what you can expect this term. Please comment on the class dojo post to find out the answers to your queries.

Excellence at school

Over the last week I have had the privilege of seeing a number of students in the office with their good work. It is always great to see the work and listen to the story behind the activity. I hope to see many more students as the year progresses.

Student Photo Consent

We will be sending out an electronic form for Parents to please complete by Monday 28 Feb. This form requests permission to publish student photos and/or samples of their work during school activities.

Kind regards,
Simon Mansfield
Principal
